

Mukwonago High School Morning Announcements
Thursday, November 16, 2017
Mozzarella Maxstix or Taco Bar

Students donating blood today: you should receive a pass from your first hour teacher indicating when you are scheduled to donate today. If you did not receive a pass or have questions, please come to room 227 and speak with Mr. Scherbarth. Additionally, there is a master list of those donating and their appointments posted outside of room 227. (11/16)

Seniors – Jostens will continue taking your graduation orders today, during your lunch periods. Please bring your packets to Room 15. (11/16)

Only 2 more days left to make a huge impact on the lives of children in Belize. Bring in new or gently used shoes for the Global Education Project. These donated shoes will be sent to Belize for children who are without. To donate, drop them off in Mrs. Bristol's room (260), Mrs. Dianich's room (221) or Ms. Klein's room (247). Please help make this a successful project! (11/16-17)

Muk Makeup is meeting today at 3:00 in room 205. This week's focus is the eyes. Stop by to play with shadows. Everyone is welcome. (11/16)

Attention Fall Athletes: If you have not cleaned out your lockers in the athletic locker rooms and are not part of a winter sport, please do so immediately. Only in-season athletes are allowed to have lockers in the varsity locker rooms. Lockers need to be cleared out by Friday afternoon. (11/16, 17)

Ski Club information is now available online, the front office or the athletic office - stop in and pick up information. (11/16)

Now here's Ed Moustis and Rory Sherrod as Grandpa and Henderson in this weekend's play:

G: A play? Is that where my tax money is going to?

H: You Can't Take It With You is more than a play! It's an experience for all ages.

G: But why would I waste my weekend going to the high school when I could read the newest article?

H: Well if you come to MHS on the 17th, 18th, and/or 19th, you can see things like snakes, explosions, and young love.

G: Snakes? I'm intrigued.

H: This weekend, see you there!"

Please stand for the Pledge of Allegiance.....
